Pennsylvania and St. Paul Among the More Prominent Securities That Made Remarkable Advances—Canadian Pacific Jumps Six Points.

(By Associated Press.)

NEW YORK, Aug. 29.—In the face of further adverse conditions, such as the Philadelphia failure and heavier drains on local financial resources, it must be said that today's stock market for the greater part of the session exhibited an unexpectedly strong undertone.

Pennsylvania made an initial gain, but Reading, which was under pressure, made a decline. Other conspicuous features of the opening were St. Paul and Canadian Pacific, the former selling with its dividend and "rights" off, and showing a gain of almost three points. Canadian Pacific continued its activity of the previous day, soon advancing to 179 a six point gain, but for more or less patent reasons, the rise attracted little attention.

By noon trading became comparatively dull, with Atchison's new high record the most noteworthy feature. The late session developed no marked tendency either way until the last hour, when call loans advanced to 6 per cent, with a further weakening in exchange to 487.70.

Trading was very active at the close, which was strong and generally at the best prices of the day.

THE DULL SCHOLAR

Many a so-called "dull scholar" is so because of some visual defect. Strange how parents neglect the eyes of their children. The teeth, the nose, the stomach, all receive due attention; but a child is sent to school without the least inquiry as to the eye—the main avenue to an education. Time was when money and lack of knowledge kept parents from giving their children's eyes proper care. It is so no longer. We give a most thorough examination free of charge.
